Supporting the Profession Supports your Bottom Line

As an Official ADDA Corporate Sponsor, you help support the existing and future publications, events, and programs that make ADDA the world's leader in the design and graphics industry.

Examples of Programs you will help sponsor are

The Professional Certification Program which allows drafters, designers and graphic professionals to demonstrate their knowledge in drafting design & graphic concepts through nationally recognized standards and practices. Certification enhances each individual's credibility, improves their opportunities for promotion, and provides an edge for your company in highly competitive job markets.

The Curriculum Certification Program developed almost 25 years ago, recognizes schools who's curricula meets ADDA's standards, which includes national and international standards governed by many affiliate organizations.

Promotion of the Design Drafting Week, during each April, honors the highly skilled professional designers drafters and graphics professionals involved in the profession on a daily basis.

The Annual Poster Contest offers students the opportunity to create marketing material used to promote Design Drafting Week. The contest is open to students of any graphic program to show creativity, vision and artistic ability. Posters are due in December of each year.

The Chapter Program is an ADDA student organization designed to help students form professional affiliations through proper directives of instructors and professionals who are involved in the industry.

The Council Program is designed to assist drafters and designers who work in the profession on a daily basis. Councils are a group of regional professional members, who meet on a regular basis, for training, discussions, tours, and development.

The Design Drafting Contest which encourages excellence in effort and discipline and gives recognition to outstanding students.

The Annual Technical Training & Educational Conference is focused entirely on the needs and interests of the design drafting and graphic professional and educator. ADDA conferences deliver the most up-to-date educational and training information and opportunities to the attendee. ADDA's conference offers training in standards and production techniques which can be applied within an existing working environment.

Through your support of ADDA, the membership, educators, students, and professionals as a whole, benefit. In return ADDA Promotes Your Company to our membership and certified professionals, encouraging them to do business with the companies which have supported them.

As ADDA grows and programs improve, the corporate sponsors, reap the benefits of better trained informed and educated employees. Individuals receive a higher level of continuing education opportunities, direct access for obtaining solutions to situations, and a dedication to the companies which are easily accessed through ADDA, the world's leader in the graphic industry.

Excellence in the Profession is our Goal.
